

It's Moonlight Madness time! ALSA performance show

Mark your calendar for July 17 & 18, 2010. This year we are mixing it up a bit. We are offering Novice and Advanced performance classes, plus all three alpaca classes, too. There won't be a youth division, but we are encouraging kids to show in novice (or advanced if your llama qualifies).

This is a great show to get your feet wet (hee hee) and give performance a try.

We'll start at 4pm Saturday afternoon and show until we are done. Niki Kuklenski will be our judge. There will be cool prizes for 1st place.

There is free camping at the arena. You are welcome to stay over and give the Jackpot performance class a try. Entry fee is $30. All the jackpot entry money will be paid back to the top 3 places 1st- 50%, 2nd- 35%, 3rd- 15%

Jackpot will be challenging - and fun!

The Carlyle Linder Arena in Glendora has few trees. Bring a hat, sunscreen and a light jacket for the evening. There will be water to keep the llamas cool. In the evening dinner will be available for $7.00. Bring your panels or picket your llamas ringside. There is a real bathroom, but no shower. Entry fee is $12 per class. Early entries are appreciated. ALSA fees will be collected at the show.

Saturday 4pm

Novice PR

Alpaca PR

Advanced PR

Novice Pack

Alpaca Pack

Advanced Pack

Novice Obstacle

Alpaca Obstacle

Advanced Obstacle

Sunday 8am

Jackpot Obstacle

Directions- Exit the 210 Freeway at Grand Avenue.

Turn north towards the mountains.

At Sierra Madre turn right.

Just before Sierra Madre ends, turn left onto Glendora Mountain Road.

The arena will be on the right about ¼ mile.